DEATHS

CHAS. P. BONDURANT—Word was received here last Tuesday of the death of one of the old citizens of the county, Chas. P. Bondurant, who died Monday evening at the home of his nephew, Dr. Hughes in Keytesville, Mo.

We are informed that he was just recovering from typhoid fever and had a tooth extracted, which caused blood poisoning that resulted in his death.

The deceased was 61 years of age the 2nd of last January and was born in Miami township where he lived all his life. He is survived by three sons, Claud, Charles and David all living in the vicinity of Sharon.

For a number of years Mr. Bondurant had been contracting walnut lumber for the Singer Sewing Machine Company and had an extensive acquaintance throughout Saline and adjoining counties.

The funeral services were held at Bethel church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and many friends and relatives were present to pay the last tribute of respect.—Slater Rustler.

OLIVER HOUS, one of Marshall's oldest and most highly respected citizens, passed away at his home, 334 East North Street, at 10:30 p. m. Friday, August 19th, after a gradual decline in health, due to old age. His death did not come as a surprise, yet caused a deep sadness at the loss of one who was so well liked. The following short sketch of his life was written by his former pastor:

"Oliver Hous was the eldest son of George Hous, who was among the first settlers in Missouri from Kentucky, and the son was born in Howard county, January 25, 1823. While still a young man, Oliver Hous moved with his parents to a farm near Lexington, Mo. In 1851 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Belles and they were permitted to celebrate their 50th anniversary, in this city, surrounded by their children and grand children. While he had been reared a Presbyterian he soon after his marriage, joined the Baptist church and has been a faithful, untiring church worker. Soon after joining the church he was made a deacon and has filled the office acceptably since and his life has been the fulfillment of the apostles words, 'For they that have used the office of deacon will purchase to themselves a good degree and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus 1 Tim. 3:13.'"

MISS MARTHA DEAN died Aug. 17th, 1910, in Corder. She was born October 26, 1826. Funeral services at the Baptist church in Corder Aug. 18 by Rev. Lee Haggard of Higginsville.

Interment in Calvary cemetery. When the nieces, Mrs. J. Platner, Mrs. S. Bedworth, also nephew, H. Bennet, received the sad intelligence of her demise they and the many friends here felt a sadness that could only be penetrated by the sweet thought that "Aunt Martha" was in the glorious home, where angelic hosts were singing praises for her. She had been in Sulphur Springs, Ark., visiting her niece, Mrs. Sarah Granstaff, when her health failed and her nephew Howard Dean, brought her to his home near Corder, that she might spend her last hours near where she had lived for so many years.

She was a consistent member of the Baptist church and an amiable sweet lady, one whom the world is the better for her having lived in it, for she endeared herself to all who were so blessed as to know her by her pure, and christian life.

The writer and her husband have known her for many years and count the hours spent with her as true, pure, unalloyed happiness.

She is now enjoying the Heavenly music and has entered upon her glorious reward. She can never return to us but by the grace of God we will all meet, "Aunt Martha" in her beautiful home.

Mrs. A. E. R.

MRS. S. M. MILLER, died at her home near Sweet Springs Monday morning after a prolonged illness of cancer of the liver and malaria fever, aged 55 years.

The remains were laid to rest in South Fork cemetery, Rev. S. H. Carter of Sweet Springs conducting funeral services.

Deceased is survived by her husband and five children.

ALBERT HORNER, a well known farmer of the New Frankfort neighborhood, died Tuesday in Lafayette county, but we failed to learn particulars.

JEFFERIES—A nine month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jefferies, died of summer complaint at their home south of town Wednesday evening. The child was never very strong. Its little body was laid to rest yesterday in Blue Lick cemetery.

Marshall Boy in Auto Wreck

One Killed, Three injured, as Car Plunges in Creek

Howell Harris, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Harris of this city, who is chauffeur for an automobile company in St. Louis, had a thrilling and painful experience while out with a party on Wednesday morning, August 17th. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat said:

The funeral of Charles G. Morris, assistant credit manager of the Grand Leader, who was killed when an automobile in which he and three companions were joyriding, plunged off the Olive St. road bridge near Chesterfield, St. Louis County, into Bonhomme Creek, 35 feet below, early yesterday morning, will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Coroner Rolla Bracy has postponed the inquest until all the witnesses can attend.

The three companions of Morris were all injured but will probably recover. They are: H. F. Berkley 3661 Washington boulevard, traveling salesman, at St. Lukes Hospital bruised; H. M. Harris, chauffeur, the Franklin Apartments, 4101 Westminster place, at St. Luke's Hospital, shoulder broken, legs crushed; H. W. Meyerhoff, clerk, Fulton Bag and Burlap Company, Colonial Apartments, right ankle broken.

Physicians at St. Luke's Hospital yesterday declared their patients were doing well and thought they would recover unless complications set in. Meyerhoff refused to see any one and the clerk at the apartments and the elevator boy said they had strict orders not to let any one see him. They say he slept during the greater part of the day and does not seem to be seriously injured.

Chesterfield is twenty six miles from St. Louis, and the scene of the accident is near the intersection of the Olive Street road and the Rock Island Railroad. It is thought that Harris who was driving the car, missed the approach to the bridge by nearly a foot and plunged directly into the creek.

The car turned over in the creek and Morris was pinned under it. Meyerhoff was thrown into shallow water near the edge of the creek and Harris in deep water. He would have drowned had it not been for Meyerhoff, who waded over to him and pulled him into shallow water. He then pulled the body of Morris from beneath the car, and he and Harris turned their attention to Berkley, who was pinned under the tonneau of the machine. Meyerhoff held his head above water while Harris went for aid. Residents of the hamlet were aroused and pulled Berkley from beneath the car.

After Berkley had been rescued, Harris telephoned to the Bagnell Automobile Company and asked that a relief car be sent to the scene of the accident. The injured men were brought to town in it. Meyerhoff wished to take the body of Morris into the car with him, but he was prevented from doing this by the state law, which requires the permission of the coroner before a body can be removed.

Howell Harris, who was hurt in the accident above, is able to be about again, although still bandaged. He will be home shortly.

Big Tent Meeting Closed Sunday

The tent meeting which has been conducted at Salem churchyard and which represented the united efforts of the Christian people of Salem and the Methodist of Shiloh, closed Sunday night, after a very impressive service, attended by hundreds of people from far and near. The meeting has from the very first been unusually successful and is a powerful evidence of the spirit of unity which exists between the churches of that community, and we trust, is indicative of the growing spirit of unity between all denominations. Not only members of the Christian and Methodist churches but also of various others joined hand and heart in the work of upbuilding God's kingdom on earth. The very most desirable spirit of brotherhood and concord prevailed throughout the three weeks of services and all are rejoicing in the good work accomplished, expressing regret only that the meeting could not continue for another week.

Rev. S. M. Yancey, the evangelist held the undivided attention of the large audiences, with his able sermons and his pleasing personality. His address, delivered one week ago, last Sunday night, was pronounced by many to have been the strongest appeal against the liquor traffic, that has ever been made in that community.

Prof. Patterson, director of the music showed great ability as a leader and wonderful skill and power as a soloist. His splendid baritone voice, taken with his excellent spirit and consecrated life, made him exceedingly useful in adding power to the services. With the aid of piano, organ, cornet, trombone and a choir of forty or fifty voices, Prof. Patterson made the music a striking feature of the meeting.

The day services held each morning after the first week, at ten o'clock were very profitable and did much toward insuring a successful meeting at night.

Last Sunday was a red-letter day. After a union Sunday School at 10 o'clock, Rev. C. E. Burgess preached his farewell sermon to a large and appreciative audience. At this service Rev. S. A. Reeves presented to him, in behalf of his many friends, a purse containing fifty dollars, as a mark of appreciation of his high Christian character and the good work he had done, during the four and a half years that he labored among them.

At five o'clock a large number of people gathered on the creek banks and witnessed the baptism of eleven men and women. At the night service more than a score of others were baptised and received into the church and the right hand of fellowship was then extended to all, thirty-six in number. One goes to the Baptist, the others were divided between the Christian and Methodist churches.

Altogether the tent meeting was one long to be remembered in the community and lasting good was accomplished. May its kind increase.

A. R. James was appointed as superintendent of the Sunday School of the M. E. Church in the place of W. W. Carpenter who resigned after holding the place for eight years.

The Union Baptist church celebrated its 50th anniversary on last Thursday, August 18th. Rev. Wm. M. Bell, of Miami, the organizer of the church, was present.

The Baptist Sunday School had its picnic at Wilton Springs Thursday of last week and spent a very enjoyable day. F. W. Taylor is the able superintendent of this school and managed the affair very creditably.

The Marshall Cumberland Presbyterians were well represented at the Missouri Synod meeting at Pertle Springs last week. Among those who went over from here were Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Cortner, Rev. S. H. McElvain, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Nuckles, Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Nuckles, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Baker and children, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Clemens, Miss Lela Hayes, Mrs. Dave Cooper, Mrs. Chas. Bradford and daughter, Miss Helen, and Miss Thomas of the Mt. Olive church. Rev. Cortner, Rev. McElvain and Mrs. Dr. Nuckles were on the program, the latter receiving many compliments on her essay on training children for mission work. The program was a good one. This is the church's 100th anniversary and the event is being appropriately observed.

PARKHURST—A new son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Parkhurst, of near Sweet Springs, Sunday, August 14th. Mr. and Mrs. Parkhurst have broken the Roosevelt record, so we conclude Mr. Parkhurst expects to head the "new" party of which one hears so much. He's sure of a good bunch of votes to start with.

WINGFIELD—A little girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wingfield of south of town Sunday died on Monday. They named her Margaret. Her remains were laid to rest in Blue Lick cemetery Tuesday.

Among the Sick

Tasso Potter is very sick at his home north of Marshall.

J. K. Graves' friends will be pleased to know that the operation on his eyes was successful. He thinks he will fully recover his sight. His cataract was the largest ever known.

The Coal Situation

Coal is now selling at from $4.50 to $5.00 a ton and unless the strikers return to work soon prices will go up instead of down. If they return to work before October 1st a local coal man informs us, we may look for a slight drop. If not there's no telling where matters will end. It seems prudent therefore that a fairly good supply be put in now to keep on the safe side.

Another matter ought to be taken up now by our commercial club or our citizens. We are told that there's a good supply of coal on Blackwater south of town. Some provision ought to be made to make this coal available in case of an emergency. It would not only be a hardship on many of our people to be without coal, but injure our business interests. Another protection would be for some of our dealers to lay in a good supply of wood.

With these precautions the strikers may strike and the bosses scheme while Marshall goes marching on.

Stock Market.

National Stock Yards, Ill., Aug. 24. Receipts of cattle this week have been extremely heavy at all points but the quality was very common again and the best cattle are about steady to 10 lower for the week. The medium to good steers are 15 to 25 lower. Feeders full steady with the close of last week and a good demand. The quality this week on the feeders was a little better than usual. All classes of heifers are 25 higher. The demand for the cows is the best it has been for sometime and they are also 25 higher. Bulls are about steady.

The hog market with very light receipts is showing an advance of 25 to 35 cents with the heavy hogs receiving most of the advance. Light weight pigs are not more than 15 to 25 higher. The pigs are quoted from $9.50 to $9.70, 200 and up to 260 lbs. from $9.35 to $9.50. Extreme heavies and the roughs from $8.75 to $9.35.

The sheep market this week has held about steady. A few of the fancy lambs are selling some higher. Top on lambs $9.65. Mutton sheep $4.25.

We look for continued liberal receipts of cattle with a scarcity of the good kind and look for the market to continue good on the good ones and expect to see the medium kinds work a little lower. As long as the hogs will continue in such small numbers, the market will stay good.
